

Timid fox boy with a failing memory, patchy taupe fur and pale skin and tattoos, slender and sharp features. Yellow/green eyes, black markings on tips of ears and on muzzle. Quiet, and often lost in thought, aloof in social situations, but stern on certain subjects. Always wears a small digital watch and a mauve hoodie, usually over an untucked dress shirt and occasionally a tie. Hiking boots and loose fitting jeans. 28? No tail or cropped tail.

Strong light skinned girl, starting body mods, ear and nose piercings, tattoos, small lynx ears and catty features but overall still mainly human. Light blue eyes, medium auburn hair. Fun loving and open, sticks to her convictions and voices her opinions. Highly learned, former hacktivist, contract programmer. Spends free time at clubs and underground bod-mod shops. Slacks and t-shirts, canvas shoes, sweatbands and bracelets.

Paramilitary drone pilot, military background. Light tan, cropped greying dirty-blonde hair, constant 5 o'clock shadow/stubble, dark grey/green eyes. Expressionless face. Former helicopter pilot, military combat training. Dress shirts and cargo pants, thin gunmetal glasses, combat boots.

Hacker girl meets amnesiac while clubbing near his apartment, and met pilot while working for government as whitehat hacker.

“A house fire and a burglary seem unconnected
It's a story about survival
Your character bites off more than s/he can chew”?

“This is an epic about temptation. The story is about a CFO who is engaged to a brutal biologist. It starts in a large nation on a tropical planet. The crux of the story involves violence. A spatial anomaly plays a major role in the story.”