

Your character's name is:

Jayson Morse

He is a European American male. Personality: The Promoter.

ISTP: Introvert Sensing Thinking Perceiving.

Friendly. Great people skills. Outgoing, social, group oriented. Does not like to be alone. Open. Likes to be the center of attention. Likes external praise. Likes crowds. Self-confident. Good at getting people to have fun. Adaptable and action-oriented. A doer, focused on immediate results. Disorganized, messy. Decisive. Finisher. Talented at presentation. Likes to lead. Likes sports. Tends to dominate conversations. Lives in the here-and-now. Fast-paced lifestyle. Impatient with long explanations. Extremely loyal to their peers, but not usually respectful of laws and rules if they get in the way of getting things done. Content, emotionally stable. Frequently joking. Adjusts easily. Neutral moods. Not easily annoyed. Enjoys crude jokes. More likely to come off as masculine. Risk taker, fearless, can handle criticism, hard to discourage. Psychological Disorder: Narcissistic.

Favored Careers: CEO, sports management, fighter pilot, marketing specialist, business manager, race car driver, supervisor, economist, airline pilot, bar owner, consultant, CIA agent, security specialist, technician, businessman, mechanical engineer, public relations specialist, coach, manager, marketing director, sales associate, mechanic, politician, publicist.

Unlikely Careers: poet, artist, art teacher, novelist, bookstore owner, graphics designer, museum curator, librarian, freelance writer, author, florist, painter, school psychologist, songwriter, musician, professional college student, editor, philosopher, English professor.