The Truth

You know America, no matter how truthful or honest one may be, I've come to realize that it just doesn't matter!

People have become so Cynical today no wonder it's become so difficult for us to communicate with one another.

- Politicians lie and deceive you on a regular basis, we do nothing! And the reason we don't do anything is because we've become complicit to it!
- The Media Lies to us on EVERY POLITICAL STORY and you believe their Propaganda! Too Gullible, too Ignorant to know better, and too numb to even care!
- Conspiracies scream directly at your faces, and you deny them! If you don't deny them, then you ignore them, and if you don't ignore or deny them you willfully accept them, if you don't willfully accept them, ignore them, or deny them, then you simply don't care and that makes you just as complicit to the conspiracies as if you were directly involved with the corruption itself!

Are you really going to wait until blood needs to be shed again to free ourselves from a Tyrannical Government!

Has America become a Country of "Chicken Shits"?

What's happened to American Pride, Dignity and Self Respect?

Where's the fight?

I'm SO TIRED of us Citizens sitting back and swallowing the garbage these Politicians have been shoving down our throats for Generations now!

Are you really convinced that our best interests have been protected and enhanced by these, so called Civil Servants!
